

Student: Elsa Grayson

March 7, 2014

Responsibility: G

Organization: E

Independent Work: E

Collaboration: E

Initiative: E

Self-Regulation: E

Elsa always completes her homework, projects, class work, and assignments, and hands them in on time. She acts appropriately throughout the day, and takes responsibility for monitoring her own behaviour. Elsa is exceeding all expectations regarding organization skills and time management. She often responds to new learning challenges by seeking out useful information to complete tasks. Elsa is a steadfast, conscientious worker who always listens carefully to teacher input. She works independently on all academic tasks when they are assigned throughout the week. Elsa can always be depended upon to set a positive example of good citizenship for her peers. She consistently shares her thoughts, and respectfully listens to the opinions of others when trying to solve problems in groups. Elsa has displayed a conscientious, highly motivated effort across the curriculum this term. In addition, she usually seems to look forward to learning and applying her knowledge to most of our classroom activities and tasks. Elsa is clearly aware of her academic strengths and needs, and actively pursues ways to improve on what she already knows. She consistently asks for teacher assistance when further clarification of challenging concepts is required. Elsa always treats her peers with respect and tolerance, and mindfully considers the feelings of others. She is an empathetic student that always considers the emotions of her peers, by demonstrating a caring and understanding approach. She often has a very optimistic outlook on the varied academic tasks and curriculum subjects we do in the classroom.